The product details include:

- SRN: 00
- Distributor: Alliant
- Product Name: Powder
- Data Source: Inv
- Source SRN: 59
- Product use: Re
- Date obtained: 6/
- Lot Number: 05
- Manufacturer: Alliant Techsystems
- Date Manufactured:
- Date of Analysis:
- Comments: Two distinctly sized disk

Physical measurements are listed:

- Diameter: avg., std. dev., min. 1.47 mm, max. 2.03 mm
- Length/thickness: avg., std. dev., min. 0.13 mm, max. 0.13 mm

At the bottom, there is a "Download" section with tabs for "GC-MS dataset", "FTIR dataset", "MSDS", and "Physical Measurements". The "GC-MS dataset" tab is selected, and a download progress bar is visible at the bottom of the browser window.

A SmartScreen Filter warning dialog box is overlaid on the page, titled "SmartScreen Filter - Windows Internet Explorer". The message reads: "This program might harm your computer". It provides the following information:

- Publisher: Unknown
- Name: Dataset_0000002.exe

The dialog box states: "SmartScreen Filter reported that this program is not commonly downloaded and is not signed by its author. If you received this program as an unexpected solicitation, link, or attachment, it might be an attempt to fool you. We recommend that you delete it."

The dialog box offers three options:

- Don't run this program (recommended)
- Delete program
- Run anyway

A link "What's SmartScreen Filter?" is also present.

The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the time as 11:11 AM on 9/19/2012.
